

From rheological state discovery to rule-grounded experiment selection

Physical evidence defines the question; explicit rules define the decision geometry; the Agent selects inside it; experiment adjudicates it.